Tena koutou

The new curriculum delivery systems of Pod delivery and Project Day learning are up and running. Students are responding well to the changes and engagement levels seemed to have improved. The challenges at this stage centre around timetabling. Traditionally timetabling is quite a rigid process. Once it is set for the year it stays and students have to fit into it - whether the fit is a good one or not. The new system of PODs and Projects means teams of teachers are now working together to deliver programmes which are more flexible in nature and bend more easily to the varying needs of a diverse range of students.

Complaints

The school has a robust complaints procedure in place which can be viewed on the school website www.taipa.school.nz . Click on communications and scroll down to policy and procedures.

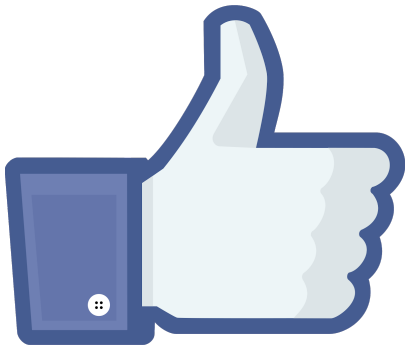

We will take your concerns seriously and do our utmost to find a positive resolution.

Bullying

The school will not tolerate bullying of any kind. The school procedure can be found on the school website www.taipa.school.nz . Click on communications and scroll down to policy and procedure. We will aim to address all instances of bullying immediately and focus on positive outcomes, particularly for the victim.
